

Mina is a professional dancer who has taught and performed Egyptian style Oriental dance since 2000. She dances regularly at local establishments in the D.C. area and has danced at numerous events including major fundraisers, weddings, festivals and parties. She has performed with some of the area's foremost Middle Eastern musicians. She was a soloist with The Ancient Rhythm Dance Troupe for 4 years. In 2004, she founded The Nile Wind Dance Troupe and was artistic director until 2007. In 2005, she was featured on Channel 4 as well as Channel 7 morning news. In addition to her performing career, she teaches two weekly belly dance classes.